Fierce Jap Atrocities Reported

Eden Holds Japanese Government, People To Blame For Acts

LONDON, March 10.—(CP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden charged in the House of Commons today that the Japanese army in Hong Kong had been guilty of wholesale atrocities in the occupied crown colony and declared the Japanese emperor and government and "the whole Japanese people" were to blame.

Fifty British officers and men were bound hand and foot and then bayoneted to death following the capture of Hong Kong; women, both European and Asiatic, were raped and murdered, and one whole Chinese district was declared a brothel without exception for the status of any of the inhabitants, Mr. Eden declared.

Municipal Law Group Rejects Vegreville Act

The municipal law committee of the legislature has voted to submit a bill to the House of Commons giving the towns and cities the right to grant assessment concessions to a religious order which wishes to build a seminary.

A motion was carried by W. A. Wilson, minister of public works, that the principle of uniform assessment, proposed in the Town and Village Act, be rejected, and the vote was sustained by a vote of 20 to 10.

The bill asked the right to make assessments on the basis of the amount of land owned by the church.

It was carried by the Right Reverend the Bishop of the Catholic Mission of the Order of Saint John the Great in Canada.

The committee voted to refuse the town's petition and to instruct the town authorities to return a decision to the church.

The committee voted by a narrow margin to take the petition of the Catholic order to the House of Commons, so that the church may have the right to construct an addition wing to the General Hospital without first taking a vote of the taxpayers as required by the city charter.

Opposition members urged amendment of S. J. Wilson, representing organizations of C.P.R. employees and the medical association of Edmonton, that the tax base of taxpayers should be given the right to vote on all questions of capital expenditure.

The proposed hospital extension would cost $350,000 and would provide a 100-bed wing, with a teaching unit and accommodation for additional nurses.

Australian Loan Over-Subscribed

SYDNEY, March 10.—(CP)—Australia's new $33,000,000 ($184,000,000) Liberty Loan closed today, two hours earlier than expected. Prime Minister John Curtin estimated full receipts at $46,000,000 and said the loan was over-subscribed, using the whole sum for war purposes.

Some 200,000 persons contributed to the loan, which is a record for Australia, with regard both to the amount of the over-subscription and the number of subscribers.

Jap Ship Shells Philippine Port

WASHINGTON, March 10.—(AP)—A Japanese naval force shelled port of Cebu in the central Philippines, the United States was departing from Manila, but only slight damage was inflicted on the city.

OTTAWA, March 10.—(CP)—Further impasse was reported today in the coalition of Dr. M. G. Gerry, Liberal member of parliament for Vancouver-Burrard who underwent a kidney operation here Sunday.

TORONTO, March 10.—(CP)—Roy Burden, 22, of Toronto, was convicted yesterday on a charge of unlawfully wounding the uniform of H. J. Weston, president, said in a statement today.

Canada's Famous Olympic Star Now Bomber Pilot In Edmonton

It was the 10th anniversary of the then peaceful, happy city of Amsterdam.

Young, curly-haired youth from Vancouver, B.C., crashes in defeat the greatest sprinters of every nation on earth in the final of the 1928 Olympic Games at the Amsterdam Olympic Games. Japan's statements at the time said a reign of terror existed for days, with thousands of women raped and murdered and other atrocities committed including during the burning of Nanjing.

Japan's statements at the time disclosed the disorders as a "mopping up" operation.

One In Eight

There is a fair chance that when the war is over the Victory Loan will be found to have topped the 1,000 million mark. The loan last June totalled 710 millions. It is no state secret that another loan will be called next October, which means that we doubt if there is much room for deciding how many of the present bonds they would buy. And the sales of war savings certificates are holding an average of 45,000 per day.

Not so bad going this for eleven million people who are not outstanding for the amount of their accumulated wealth, and who recently emerged from a period of black depression in which drought paralyzed production over a great arc while world-wide stagnation clogged the markets.

Subscriptions to the present loan are estimated to have been 1,200,000, about one in every eight of the population. This compares with one subscriber in twenty last year—a gain of nearly fifty per cent. The power of contribution per capita.

The shadow-boxing after dinner orators will have to get another text. If "Canadians don't know they are at war," they at least have a pretty strong and very practical hunch to that effect. People in business don't hand out such "goes" of money without knowing what they are doing it.

What Became Of The Army?

Three weeks ago the newspaper reading world was informed in dispatches from Java that the Dutch army there had 250,000 men, and were of course making up the bulk of the force. The latter on the Dutch commander in Java was reported welcoming American, British and Australian reinforcements numbering "many thousands".

Now from Bandung on Friday—where the defenders had concentrated—came this: "The invaders' strength in ground forces alone has been stepped up to 100,000. Allied effective were outnumbered by troops five to one."

What is the answer to this conundrum? Was it that the early reports were "padded" in hope of frightening the Japanese away by a vision of overwhelming defense? Or that the defenders of 300,000 or so shrivelled so heavily in the fighting—in which it has been consistently claimed their losses were small in comparison to those inflicted upon an enemy whose strength has been placed at a mere 100,000? Did the native soldiers hold and leave the whites to do the fighting? Or had the latter been evacuated to Australia?

It is to be hoped the latter is the explanation. Either of the other alternatives would be as disheartening as the loss of the island.

After Three Months

Japan's war is now three months old. It has been, for the plotters, three months of victory. They have gained possession, for the time, of most of the East Indies islands. France's colony of Indo-China, Siam, Malaya, and a good part of Burma.

If the war could be stopped now and on the basis of things as they stand, Japan would have quadrupled its territorial possessions and its military and industrial resources still more. But the war is not terminable at Tokyo's pleasure, nor is there anything ultimately decisive in the gains it has made. It is now three months with spoils that it was not able to keep.

Japan must keep going. It dare not halt its troops where they are and devote itself to consolidating the ground it has gained and to developing the "scorched earth" tactics. To do that would give the Allies time to regroup over overwhelming forces in Australia and India and China and perhaps elsewhere. The aggressor must keep advancing. He cannot leave his opponents in position to mount their strength.

There is no profit in trying to disguise or discount the losses the Allies have sustained nor the gains Japan has made. But along with these assets Japan has assumed a liability. It must split its forces to defend the more distant areas and in so doing weaken its power at every point. The Allies couldn't be stronger everywhere. Neither can Japan. The longer Tokyo's chain of conquest is extended, the more dangerous that somewhere a link will be snapped.

Japan can keep the fruits of its treachery only if the Axis wins the World War. And the Axis is very much less likely to win because Japan brought the United States into the war.

A "Second Front?"

Criticism of the Churchill Government is based mainly on the view that the Allies should take the offensive somewhere, preferably in Europe, to prevent Hitler throwing the whole weight of his forces against Russia in the projected spring offensive.

Because they have been longer in the thick of the fray, men in Britain are understandably even more anxious than the rest of us to see what the Allies are doing with defensive tactics and as to what the enemy. And Russia certainly deserves the help of a "second front" against the Nazis if there is a possibility of giving them help without cutting down our stocks of supplies. Russia must get free abroad.

It is possible, very possible, that impatient critics there and elsewhere have failed to read the significance of the movement of United States troops to Britain. An invasion of the continent may be neither more nor less than it came. It happened there and across the Atlantic merely to increase the already sufficiently strong garrison on the British Isles.

The plain inference is that a huge force being built up in Britain in order to protect that country in action elsewhere. It is difficult to see what other purpose can be in the minds of the Allied commanders, unless they think Hitler is bluffing in the east and eastward.

It cannot be supposed that they are crossing the Atlantic merely to increase the already sufficiently strong garrison on the British Isles.

The plain inference is that a huge force being built up in Britain in order to protect that country in action elsewhere. It is difficult to see what other purpose can be in the minds of the Allied commanders, unless they think Hitler is bluffing in the east and eastward.

It is a point to remember is that the history of the war in Europe and Libya, from the Allied standpoint, has been a record of premature offensives. We invaded Norway—and had to get out. We invaded Greece—and had to get out. We took the offensive in Libya—and lost the territory thus gained.

These invasions were the results of marching in with too few men and too little equipment. They cost men and material, and accomplished nothing permanent. There have been more than enough such costly and booted raids.

When another invasion is launched it should be in force with all the tanks, ships, guns and planes required to set up and maintain a real "front." And when the invasion army salutes it will have behind another army in Britain, enough equipment to smash any counter-invasion that may be attempted.

The movement of United States troops to Britain suggests that such a plan is now in the process of working out.

V

Thirty thousand men, it is said, may be needed to build the Alaska highway, and where they are to be found is already a question. Officials in the Lethbridge employment office said they had orders for 100,000 and were doubtful if the order could be filled. Unemployment is also a war casualty.

Looking Backward

From the Bulletin Files

1892-50 Years Ago

Rev. John McDougall of Molson writes that the country to be traversed by the western railway is not the barren waste of rock and scoria that has been represented with some accuracy. It is a region having large areas of extremely arid soil and a summer climate more favorable than that of the Great Plains. Mr. McDougall made a trip through that region recently and is in a position to speak authoritatively on the subject.

A petition was presented to the town council asking that Queen street be widened to 40 feet. The petition was signed by 1,000 citizens of Jasper and that Namayo be widened to 66 feet.

Farming Vital IndustryCommands Article Offering Plan For Reduction of Canadian Farmers' Debt*LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor, Bulletin: You are to be warmly congratulated on Mr. Harold Weir's excellent article, "Time to Restore Independence to the Farmers of Alberta" in your issue of March 4.

Agriculture is not merely a vital industry, it is the backbone of the national economy in both peace and war. It is impossible to have a flourishing and progressive agriculture without a strong and solid foundation of virile and prospering primary industries and a well-developed secondary industry. The economic fact of all sharing in the state. When some have all and others none, there is no sound thinking or speaking in terms of sharing.

A real instance is the recent strike at Kirkland Lake where a few gold miners were worth more than four thousand miners their democratic rights.

It shows the comparative shares in the state. It also shows how the economic conditions determine changes in the state.

But social security is not merely a question of unemployment insurance and old age pensions. That is important, but it is solutions we must demand. There must be creative employment, jobs for all which means that social planning. It can be done, and it must be done, to beat beasts before achieving this. The future must offer more than doles and old age pensions.

Democracy is a social process that must lead to social security if allowed to function. We must demand that the economic burdens imposed upon the power, profits and privilege for the few who own the "property and privately-owned resources." This is the main obstacle to social security.

New Markets

Editor, Bulletin: I have read in one of your columns March 2, in regards to "New Markets." I am sorry to say we are in by having foreign markets. I come to the conclusion we would have been better off without foreign markets. We are not in a position to tend to benefit one another, with goods, not to create a cheap market for goods. It is not in the best interest of men and boys out of work, and I say no trade with material for war purposes.

We are to be pitifully dependent on the Second Victory Loan, there is no idea of a quiet war nor is there any.

It is merely that the good-will of the Canadian people towards their Government is to be freed from the burden of a similar gesture of good-will flowing in the opposite direction.

A broad and liberal plan of unemployment relief, an adequate retirement allowance based on an intelligent computation of living costs and due regard given to the fact that the cost of medical and national health insurance are essential factors in the creation of a state strong enough to defend itself.

These things are necessary to the establishment of national morale without which no war ever won.

The Second Victory Loan is a program at this present session of Parliament just as much part of Ottawa's war effort as the return of the Canadian men to the front. The people of Canada are to be pitifully dependent on the Second Victory Loan.

It is known what these three "New Markets" are, it will be greatly appreciated.

Promises

Editor, Bulletin: Farmers in the west received a lot of promises last summer from the federal government. The wheat acreage limit was to be removed in the early fall months. The Prairie Farm Assistance payments were to be paid at least 50 per cent in December and the remaining 50 per cent in January.

The hard pressed farmers were relieved of the burden of the wheat acreage limit which would enable them to meet some of their most pressing obligations.

Mr. Weir has outlined a practical policy. It can be summarized thus:

1. Adequate credit facilities available to the farmer to meet his financial requirements.

2. The Federal Government to assume responsibility for agricultural marketing. The Federal Government is responsible for the marketing of the products of agriculture which price is but a function. And Ottawa is likewise responsible for the national welfare of which agriculture is the very basis.

4. The Federal Government to assume responsibility for agricultural marketing. The Federal Government is responsible for the marketing of the products of agriculture which price is but a function. And Ottawa is likewise responsible for the national welfare of which agriculture is the very basis.

These are no justification for delay on the part of the government in carrying out its monetary policy.

It is just a "bookkeeping problem"—and it is downright insanity to continue to postpone the national war effort and the future of the nation.

Thousands of farmers have been promised under the Prairie Farm Assistance Act.

This is a very serious condition. Commercial and industrial conditions are forcing us to pay more for the necessities of life.

How have these promises or pledges been kept? Well here it is the first of March. Many farmers are still waiting for a portion of the wheat acreage release.

These figures were certainly illuminating, we really need war makers and war profiteers to be held responsible for what license has been given to the power of the banks.

In your issue of March 3 I see a letter written by Chas. H. Huestis in which he says that the people of Canada are not to be blamed for the war because they are the example to the world.

I am sorry to say that I am not so fortunate situated that I will be able to pay the fees required to get into that institution, and when they get in what?

They do not seem to be blessed with superior brains any more than (if I may say it) the average person.

It is a pity that the young men that are getting exemptions and postponements that are just as able to be in the service as the ones that are not are not being called.

If the university students or the post-graduates are to be excused for such a struggle as we are in now?

Personally, I may say that when the economy of the country was as to peace, I was not forced to go into the market to sell my wheat.

Aldermen By 8-3 Vote Endorse Increase At $140,000 Annual Cost

Edmonton's city council Monday night, by a vote of eight to three, decided to offer to civic employees payment of a cost-of-living bonus of $2 weekly for married employees and single employees with dependents, and $1 weekly for unmarried employees. Wage ceiling for payment of the bonus was set at $2,500. The estimated cost of the offer, if accepted by the employees, will be $140,000.

F. J. Fitzpatrick was re-elected president of the Edmonton and District Credit Union Officers' Association, at the annual meeting of that organization, held at the Legislative buildings, on Monday evening. The members of the officers' association and of the Civil Service Credit Unions since their creation.

William Wentworth, of Swift's Credit Union, was elected vice-president, and Mrs. Irene Gibson of the City Credit Union was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

A program committee was elected, and Mr. W. E. McLean, president of St. Joseph's Credit Union, and Wilfrid A. Thivierge, representing St. Joseph's Credit Union.

Trapper Enlists: Buys $2,000 Bond

Tony, a 10-year-old northcross of Akatsik and 400 miles north of the Arctic Circle, James Lee Jones, 23, recently passes through Edmonton on his way to Vancouver where he joined the Canadian North West Volunteer Reserve, and invested $2,000 in Victory bonds.

Lee was born in the Athabasca country during the last year of the First World War, of American parents. At 15 he began trapping and stayed the winter, trapping in the Arctic circle of the summer.

From 1934 to 1938 he took part in the epic reindeer trek from Alaska to the Yukon, and helped to protect the project undertaken by the Canadian Government.

Radio bulletins, only source of information during the long cold winter nights, told him of the news of Japan's attack on the United States.

"Things looked pretty serious to me," he said. "I thought I had come for me to do my share."

"And then I'm going back to my trapping grounds. I signed up for the army, and I'm going to Vancouver in September for a trip, but the season closed early so he missed the last train home. He got a job in Edmonton, a distance of 2500 miles, airfare, and he came the rest of the way by train. He estimates he is 3000 miles from home."

The bonus payment after motion was made by Ald. H. D. Albin, seconded by Ald. Mrs. J. Clark. The motion was seconded and recorded vote by Mayor John W. Foy, Alderman Albin and Mrs. Foy, Alderman Guy, Alderman Parson, Sidney Bowes, A. Bissel and C. E. Garey. Voting against were Aldermen H. J. Osgood, M. D. Donoghue and F. J. Mitchell.

A secret ballot of civic employees was held to determine whether or not the committee offer is acceptable. Assurance was given by Alfred Farmland, president, Alberta Credit Union, and Fred Bissell, spokesman for the employees, that Federation of Civic Employees' officers were unanimous in acceptance.

Amendments Disputed

Amendments to the initial motion by Aldermen Bissell and Mitchell were defeated. Ald. Bissell's amendment called for an increase of $1.50, 75 cents, and $1.25 for the two others. An amendment by Ald. Parson, which would have provided a cost-of-living bonus be adopted and the question of the amount to be paid submitted to the regional board, was defeated also.

Mr. Farmland maintained that, as a result of breaking up the district which appeared to be too large, the commission board and the employee representatives, that could not be done, and the cost-of-living bonus for married and single employees with dependents and $1 for unmarried employees made recently by the city commissioners.

If that motion had been forthcoming, it would have been voted on by the members of the Federation of Civic Employees who would submit the amendment to the city to the members of its acceptance.

Mayor John W. Foy interposed that $2 and $1 had been offered by the commissioners.

THE QUESTION

What is the teacher situation in becoming increasingly difficult according to statements made by officials of the Alberta Teachers' Association at a meeting held recently? What are your suggestions for improving the situation?

THE ANSWER

Mrs. C. CHRISTENSEN, housewife, with two sons, says that there are so many teachers leaving the profession for other opportunities that the future of the root of the matter lies in that their pay is inadequate for the idealistic and important work they do.

JOSEPH GERMIN, residence-business proprietor: The profession must be made sufficiently attractive for many more teachers regularly leaving the profession for other opportunities. The pay scale in the root of the matter lies in that their pay is inadequate for the idealistic and important work they do.

MISS. B. CHURCH, however: If teachers were placed in the same districts as the students, the teachers would get a better deal all round and the prestige of accordingly. This would mean more taxation of some sort on the parents. It is better to tax the parents than to most young men who are not married.

Tram System Smashes Previous Record With 3,387,285 Passengers

Passenger traffic on the street railway for the first two months of April 1942 smashed all previous records, according to Thomas Ferrier, street railway superintendent.

During January and February this year 3,37,385 passengers were carried compared with 3,387,285 in April 1941, an increase of 28,900.

It was noted that the new speed-up schedule designed to cut down unnecessary stops of the street railway system when gasoline rationing goes into effect April 1.

The new schedule, Mr. Ferrier said, has sped up the time on all mail routes, and fewer stops will be made on these lines. The new schedule will be put into effect early this summer.

Dorothy Dix Says:

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My husband and I have been married now for a year and a half. She has a nice income, a fine car, a comfortable income. She is only 31 years old and is in perfect health, and there is no reason why she couldn't have her independent life and my money. Please let us have our independent life and let us live in our own home. It's all I want. But she insists on us living with her, al-

Costs, Rationing Need Not Lower Menu Quality

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

TRY this "pork roast" for a party dinner. It's different, inexpensive and tasty.

ROAST OF PORK VEAL

Have butcher remove bone from 5-pound shoulder of veal. Wipe with damp cloth and season. Fill cavity with 1 lb. mushrooms, 1 lb. bird fat, 1 lb. onions, 1 lb. carrots, 1 lb. leeks and 1 lb. turnips. Roll and tie in place. Put aside up in rack in roasting pan and cover with aluminum foil. Roast in oven at 325 degrees F. (allowing about 40 minutes per pound, or until meat thermometer registers 180 degrees F.). Serve with baked apples or rice.

Here are two recipes for wartime menus worked out by noted nutritionists. They will help you cut the higher costs and rationing.

BRINED LIVER WITH VEGETABLES

Serves 5 to 6
One pound beef liver, 4 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons fat. No fat can be omitted. Add 2 onions, 1 lb. diced celery, 2 carrots sliced.

Cut liver in small pieces. Dip in flour. Heat fat in a large broiler. Add onions and liver. Brown slowly until tender, about half an hour.

PRUNE WHIP

One cup evaporated milk, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1/2 cup mashed prune pulp, 1 tablespoon gelatin.

Wash 2 cupsful dried prunes, soak overnight. Heat gradually in water in which they were soaked, cook slowly until skins are tender about 15 minutes. Drain. Remove stones, put prunes through a strainer. Whip milk until foamy. Add prunes slowly and continue whipping until fluffy. Fold in sugar and mashed prune pulp.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST—Tomato and grapefruit juice, fried egg, bacon.

LUNCHEON—Brisket liver with vegetables, cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER—Polka dot yeast roll, creamed custard with yellow parsnips with buttery sauce. Fold in sugar and prune white coffee.

McCoy Health Service

In his article yesterday, I discussed some of the common causes of headaches and promised to explain to you how to overcome this symptom. The first part of the treatment must be to determine the cause of the headache. This may be best accomplished by means of a careful examination and a complete physical examination, special study should be given to the gastro-intestinal tract. If it is found that the patient is ill in the eyes to find out if the headache may be due to an uncorrected eye defect. The use of suitable lenses often relieves a sufficient number of people who don't know what the thing that makes them memories.

DOROTHY DIX

When the patient has a history of recurrent headaches, an antibiotic should be given to the liver and gall bladder.

I find it necessary in my practice to make some changes in the environment of the patient's room with frequent headaches. Often the headache seeming to arise from an obscure cause, may be due to an emotional basis. Family troubles, worry over money, and the various problems relating to the patient's work, or the care of his head, may be causes of headache.

Sympathetic inquiry, backed up by sound psychological advice will usually clear up the cause of this type.

When the patient seems to have a physical basis, it is often difficult to make a determined effort to build up the general health. The system of diet and exercise should be directed toward increasing the health as a whole. The patient should be encouraged to go to bed several weeks should he be sure to get enough sleep, and should always be told to exercise as far as the body can stand.

In handling persistent headaches brought on by constipation, it is very important to have a good intestinal elimination each day. If the colon does not cleanse itself naturally, the patient should be advised to take until the large intestine is completely cleaned out to function normally. Constipation is the only common frequent cause of headache, and with relief of this one condition, relief from headache follows almost automatically.

As to the treatment to be used during the actual attack, the most effective relief is given by being relieved by taking a plain enema and then lying down in a darkened room for thirty minutes. The cause of the headache will be found to have disappeared.

Insomnia, such as many headaches are of toxic origin, the use of the rest is generally advisable since it is a primary cause of headache. A few days of rest will remove a tendency to headaches. After the fast, the patient should practice relaxation, than he has had for years, and he will be careful about what he eats from then on, and will set the colon to work again. The elimination of waste material, is likely that headache will become a thing of the past.

Your Baby And Mine

It is human nature to want to do something to help in any emergency situation, rather than to sit tight and let it work itself out. A good parent has the feeling that every child should be taught that every behavior the child displays should be dealt with and solved immediately.

Unfortunately, there are problems for which there is no immediate solution. If the problem is one requiring growth, the child's behavior may be the problem. Many a parent has written saying that she started to wean her baby when she didn't send it to bed and now she doesn't want an answer to that problem—it is difficult to tell what has caused the child to act this way.

A teacher confirmed this statement. Mother came to her, and she was faced with a problem with specific behavior. She asks them to wait while she thinks it over. Later, she says, "I am not interested in this problem, unless parents have given up and are determined to give up their child." She then asks them to improve him with the difficulty of continuing to say no, when they have a weapon a parent cannot carry.

The agitated mother will say, "Oh, I just can't stand it when we start thinking it has time on her side. The agitated mother who must act combat every undesirable situation, and fight it sternly. Her problems end.

Much of a child's behavior has no specific cause and therefore need not be analyzed. Children profanity seem to please and satisfy a child for a time and if they are allowed to do it, it will not improve them with the difficulty of continuing to say no, when they have a weapon a parent cannot carry.

Some children find satisfaction in being alone because solitude is a way to escape from the pressure of one misbehavior to another, sure of plenty of parental fireworks in this direction.

This does not mean that all situations can be ignored. But they can be set aside if ignored while the parent works on the problem. The child must be allowed to do as he does as he does and if this is an area where she can do things she can do to change the environment and the influences which control her.

That's the hard and not the dramatic way to deal with behavior, but it is the way to do it. It is better for time to do it's stuff as well as preventing the child from adopting it. It is not permanent because it has no means to communicate it from his standpoint.

With "Children Shouldn't Be Bad," it is important to understand the behavior. It may be helpful to send a self-addressed envelope to Marvin Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

HOUSE REVISES STATUTE

Legislature Approves Amendment To Alberta Lands Act

Minister May Release Machinery, Equipment From Government Charge

An amendment which allows the minister of lands and mines to release any machinery or equipment in mineral lands from any charge the government may have against the property for rentals or royalties was made in an amendment to the bill amending the Provincial Lands Act, in the legislature Monday.

Several changes were made in the bill on Monday when it was revised by the committee in its whole. The changes had been requested by opposition members.

The regulation committee which the provincial government proposes to appear to review the bill, if a company wished to apply for a permit under the (Accident Fund) act will be composed of x members of the legislature if the amendment is approved by the assembly.

The motion, which is expected to be carried by Hon. Lucien Maynard, K.C., minister of municipal affairs, is to take effect April 1, 1942, and might be a charge against the land incurred by a previous holder or a party engaged in the drilling or mining contractor.

This change was made at the suggestion of Mr. C. Marshall, who said that the original clause would allow seizure of a driller's equipment when the rentals were owned by the owner of the land. This felt, he said, would hinder development.

Another amendment made by Mr. Marshall was that the government would be empowered to take a lien on equipment on such property as may have been used for the purpose of recovering or searching for minerals." This change was made after T. Brounfield, Ind., asked for it.

On March 9, Mr. Marshall said that the original bill, which did not specify type of equipment, would allow seizure of farm buildings.

The bill also, the government to take a priority on equipment and mineral lands to recover royalties and rentals.

WITHHOLD DECISION

The bill was slower over in committee than the one which voted to withhold decision on a claim which gave the minister power to give workers' compensation where Workmen's Compensation Act assessments were in default, to include the cost of rentals due the crown and recover the whole under the Provincial Lands Act.

Key members of the government side voted with a number of the opposition to stand this one out. The cabinet voted for another amendment proposed by a number on the Social Credit side.

The clause provided that royalties should have first claim from monies recovered, then the Workmen's Compensation Board and other monies. The cabinet voted that other persons with claims should share in the proceeds of the oil and gas wells and developed successfully. He felt it was bad business for a small co-op to use credit.

BILLS APPROVED

Three bills were approved by the whole for the third reading. They were amendments to the Irrigation Districts Act, the Alberta Wheat Pool Act and the Crop Payments Irrigated Land Act. The bill to amend the Vehicles and Highways Traffic Act, 1941, was given second reading. The bill included an amendment to the only existing plan or marker in the license year 1942-43.

Increase in the maximum payment of a crop which may be claimed on purchase price or rental by irrigation districts and certain municipalities. The maximum share of root crops to one-eighth and from one-fifth of other crops to one-half of other crops in the amendment to the Crop Payments (Irrigated Land) Act.

It has been found that the payment of one-half of the crop may not always be sufficient to pay interest on purchase price and irrigation rates in the case of a sale of taxes and irrigation rates on leased land, it was agreed.

America's Card Authority

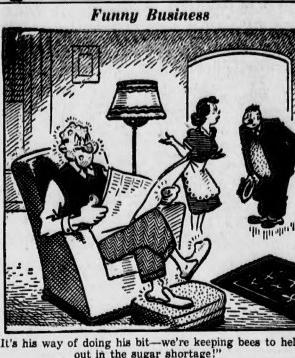

The No. 2 member of my team is John R. Crawford, who has been Crawford accumulated 140 Master Points—in 1941, which was surprised him. His wife, Mrs. A. M. Sobel, who has 162 Master Points during the year.

Crawford won the Vandebilt National knockout team-out team-four championship and the Eastern knockout team. He was runner-up in the world's championship Masters pair events at Asbury Park, and finished third in the Eastern open pairs.

Crawford is often referred to as "the daring young man on the flying trapeze" because he has told that even the old master-minds cannot see through his tactics. His play is marked with switch point precision.

Here is a hand he remembers as one of the most interesting in 1941. East had the royal flush, while the queen failed to drop. Crawford (North) had a jack of spades and the king of clubs. West had the third trump, and the West was forced in.

For the last hand, North and East each held two trumps, and dummy had the spade ace and club jack. West had to lead a diamond, and now had to lead a spade. He led to a club. Of course the queen of clubs got a drop doubleton. He saw one other, the king of spades.

It's his way of doing his bit—we're keeping bees to help out in the sugar shortage!

Kiwanis Hear Editor Talk On Kiwanis Highway

F. S. Wright, editor of the "Northern Miner" and chairman of a western organization known as the Prairie-Alaska Highway Association, spoke on the Alaska Highway to members of the Edmonton Kiwanis club at their regular weekly luncheon at the Macdonald hotel, Monday noon.

Mr. Wright spoke of recent developments that have assisted in highway construction in the Northwest. He described the route along which it is expected the proposed road will be built.

Charles A. Christensen, president of the Kiwanis, was in the chair.

The Gulf Stream is the blues body of water on the earth.

Mr. Wright spoke of the work of Major Waterston, who has been active in Salvation Army work since 1936. M.L.A. Suggests Social Credit Funds For War

Using that funds required for operation of the National Defense Board should be raised and placed in the hands of the federal government for war purposes, D. M. Duggan, M.L.A., Edmonton, moved that the $232,000 contribution for the board be deleted from the Alberta government's budget, whereupon it was being discussed in committee of the whole.

The committee approved $16,000 of the estimates for the trade and industry department before it reached the item for the Social Credit board which discussion was unfinished at adjournment. The committee also approved the amount of $16,000 of the provincial secretary's department, passing the only item left on Friday, the cost of expenses of the Fuel Oil Tax Act.

REGIONAL LABOR BOARD

When discussion of the appropriation of $823,000 for the Board of Industrial Relations, on which the committee, Angus J. Morrison, Labor, Edison, asked whether the government had any objection to the provincial secretary's department, passing the only item left on Friday, the cost of expenses of the Fuel Oil Tax Act.

Admiral King Is Named Supreme Head U.S. Navy

Admiral Ernest Joseph King, commander-in-chief of the United States Fleet, yesterday was given an audience by all American naval operations taking over powers formerly exercised by Admiral Harold R. Stark.

Admiral Stark was named commander of U.S. naval forces in European waters.

Admiral King Is Named Supreme Head U.S. Navy

WASHINGTON, March 9.— (UPI)—Till yesterday Admiral Ernest Joseph King already had been given command of all American naval operations, combined with his duties as fleet commander-in-chief of the United States Fleet. Monday assumed supreme command of all American naval operations, combining with his duties as fleet commander-in-chief of the fleet which had charge primarily of fighting activities. Stark will remain to keep the fleet in condition for any emergency and for long-range planning. All naval operations will be conducted under one man.

"We are called on to economic and to preserve all the men we can," said Mr. Duggan. "Mr. Duggan said, when the item for the Social Credit Board was reached. He suggested that the board should be a proper body to proceed with "experiments."

"TWO MAIN POINTS"

Mr. Duggan said, "One D. M. Milian, minister of agriculture, "Of course we can make plans now." Mr. Duggan said, "I hope that he agreed and at the same time disagreed with Mr. Duggan." If it is the policy of the Social Credit Board to have a Social Credit board," he said, "then the board should be well put in, and consider the fact that assistance allowance is inadequate."

He declared that for seven years he had waited for Social Credit to be put in, and that the board should go out and tell the people why it had not been implemented.

"Here are my two main points," he said. "If we are going to have a Social Credit board we should pay off the debts that should be structured to go out and tell the people that Social Credit can't be introduced until the provinces still remain a unit of the Dominion and that we must start all over and try something else."

He said, "If the work of the board was educational it should be under the education department, not the trade and industry department."

"We would have to wait," he said, "if the government of Canada had kept his promise of 'hands off Alberta,'" said Gordon Taylor, S.C. Duggan, who added, "Social Credit are allowed to exercise their sovereign power that will be the day when we demand it." He said the money in the board's feed bank plan was more to be criticized than the Social Credit board, respectively.

E. J. Martin, Ind., Peace River, said, "The Social Credit board's attitude towards the proposed revision of the Workmen's Compensation (Accident Funds) Act will force a club for collecting money from the workers." The money for the board should come from the Farmers' club and not from the government or the province.

EDUCATIONAL WORK

J. E. Bowlen, Lib., Calgary, said that the Social Credit board has gained the support of the 1937 "urgency" and not was meant to be a permanent body but only to "find a Social Credit expert." He said Glen L. MacLachlan, first chairman of the board and now on active service, was sent to London and back again G. F. Powell and L. D. Byrne.

The board has now degenerated into a political propaganda machine and it is high time the item was passed up," he said.

W. A. Fellow, minister of public works and president of the educational work, emphasized to many people so that now they knew what to do in the old question, "What is Social Credit getting from?" The federal government, he said, had made a beginning in Social Credit policies stabilizing prices but would soon find that the consumer must be satisfied rather than "big industry."

Lionel Tettler, Ind., St. Albert, felt that if the Social Credit board intended to alleviate Alberta in distress, it should aim at the Alberta industries and not just those which had contracts with the treasury branch.

WRONG ATTITUDE

Mr. Manning said he felt Mr. Duggan was wrong in attitude when he had said, "nobody can conceive of anything more important than the expenditure of government." The amount involved was small.

If it is the Social Credit attitude that the legislature take time to hear an unrepresented issue like the one in the Western Star, then the thought might enlighten members of the opposition as to the Star's work.

Council Makes Bonus Offer To Employees

while Commissioner R. J. Gibb said the only reason why the commission could not accept the offer was that such offer was beyond the powers of order-in-council. He added that no bonus could be paid without action of the regular board.

CAPACITY TO PAY

And the capacity to pay the bonus must be considered also must the fact that wages had been restored to the 1929 level last spring, and that coal at living at present was still in flux. He said he was in favor of paying a cost-of-living bonus, but that bonus should be paid if it could be justified to the citizens.

He pointed to the fact that under order-in-council #233 the bonus was to be paid without sanction, and added that there appeared to be a majority in the commission in favor of doing this.

To test this he moved that "This council is of the opinion that this council of the commission should be given authority to pay a cost-of-living bonus of $2 and $1 on the basis recommended by the city commissioners, and that the motion be carried by a vote of eight to three." Supporting the motion were Aldermen Ogilvie, Douglas and Chapman, with Alderman Morrison, Mrs. Clarke, Alyce Parsons, Bowcott, Blane and Garney.

Planned for Tomorrow

Plans for the campaign were mapped at a meeting held Monday afternoon by representatives of both the Canadian Legion and the Knights of M. Campbell Fraser, the meeting was attended by Elmer E. Roper, R. H. McLean, W. H. McLean, J. McLean and W. Harris of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and the Youth Council of Edmonton.

The campaign will be built up through various publicity channels and through contacts to be made with large groups in industrial and youth fields.

EVERY THREE MONTHS

Donors will be invited to contribute money at intervals of about three months.

Centres at which volunteers will enrol are the Banque Canadienne de l'Est, 1025 Jasper Avenue, Headwaters of the Bow River, in a store two doors north of the Kild Edward hotel entrance; and in the Bow River at the Granville Theatre. These premises have been selected for the campaign work and will be staffed by Red Cross workers.

The Junior Chamber will attend to all out-door publicity and the convincing of people in industrial centers.

The Youth Council of Edmonton, under direction of James Macenzie, will conduct its campaign with the Junior Chamber and the Red Cross, and will see that the film is presented to young people's organizations in Edmonton.

Details on the establishment of a campaign committee, handling blood donor and other publicity, blood donor and Red Cross blood processing plant in Edmonton, will be available in the near future. It is anticipated that donations will be handled shortly after the enrollment campaign gets underway.

At this point Ald. Almey indicated that the campaign finally got under way. It was followed by the amendment from Ald. Blissett and Ald. Mitchell.

On the defeat of the bill Ald. Mitchell moved that council agree in principle to deal with the cost-of-living bonus, the amount of the bonus to be fixed by the commission.

The motion was defeated and the main motion passed.

Where the money was concerned as to where the money to meet the $2 and $1 bonus payment could be taken from, Ald. Blissett said, "from taxation. A bonus paid should not result in taxation increase," he said.

Ald. Almey interposed that the main motion was not clear and gave paramount consideration if the payment could not be made.

If the payment could not be made, then taxes must go up. "It was unfair to ask the employees to bear the burden of a tax to be borne by the taxpayers at large," he stated.

In preparation for his amendment, Ald. Mitchell said, "It was based on the increase in the cost of living since the last general wage increase given him. The cost of living has increased by 25 cents to be adopted to meet the estimated $10,145 increased cost of living." The motion was carried. The $10,145 for 1942 would be retained.

Replies from telephone workers for wage increases bring rates of line with that paid by the province to government was not paid with its city counterparts.

In preparation for the proposed blackout, Canadian Legion, A. G. Ross, Legion address member of auxiliary police organized by the Corps of Imperial Frontiers to man in air raid precautions duty at the city police station at 8:30 p.m. Thursday.

Lt. Col. H. S. Reynolds, commanding officer of the Corps, said Thursday that he was seeking to enlist many more volunteers in the force and was also discussing the possibility of enlisting women in the corps.

Short addresses were given by various members of the club, with the singing of Auld Lang Syne. The meeting was brought to a close.

W. R. Devenish Is City Visitor

Mr. Devenish said that all freight traffic in and out of Edmonton and district shows a substantial gain over a year ago, particularly as the winter weather has provided a good opportunity to reinforce rolling stock in all classifications to meet requirements.

Mr. Devenish said the entire business of the Alberta roadways has increased, and included T. W. White, district engineer of the Alberta roadways, and H. E. Spurling, superintendent of the Edmonton division.

Psychologist Wins Army Commission

Spending with which March weather change was clearly indicated during a two-hour storm late Monday evening. Coming out of almost clear skies, the temperature fell softly between four and six degrees, making house-goes, especially those in the part of the city, particularly unpleasant moments.

The temperature dropped to 32 degrees below zero Monday afternoon was 40 above and the low Tuesday morning was 18 above.

Roger L. T. Teller, who suggested that the legislature take time to hear an unrepresented issue like the one in the Western Star, reported one below to the cold spell among the western cities.
